

The global virtual conference giving the SCIENTIFIC COMMUNITY an opportunity to showcase IMPACTFUL RESEARCH to the WINE INDUSTRY

MISSION

- ✓ Get professionals of the sector aware of the recent results of worldwide wine and grape research
- ✓ Allow scientists to have global exposure, even beyond the academic community
- ✓ Offer stakeholders in marginal areas the opportunity to get updated on innovations

PREVIOUS EDITION

The first edition of Enoforum Web was celebrated on February 23-25, 2021. More than 40 scientific contributions, selected by an international scientific committee, were presented during the web conference. Simultaneous translation allowed a full understanding of the content by stakeholders speaking English, French, Spanish and Italian; 5,500 wine professionals enrolled, and 2,500 from 67 countries attended the conference. Thereafter, the same scientific works were presented at Enoforum Italy 2021 (on web, 2,500 subscribers), Enoforum USA 2021 (on web, 1,500 subscribers), Enoforum Spain 2022 (in presence, 500 attendees), Enoforum USA 2022 (in presence, 250 attendees).

CALL FOR ABSTRACTS 2023 EDITION

TO WHOM IS IT ADDRESSED?

Grape&Wine scientists from all over the world, whose activity is carried out in public research centres, are invited to submit one or more abstracts on their most innovative and applicative research on strategic themes for modern viticulture and enology.

WHY PARTICIPATE?

- ✓ Get international wine industry aware of your recent findings and create private funding opportunities for your research
- ✓ Establish international collaboration with other research groups on similar topics
- ✓ Have free access to all ENOFORUM 2023-2024 in presence congresses (Enoforum Italy, May 16-18, 2023) Enoforum USA and Enoforum Spain (2024) InfowineForum Portugal, 2023), even if not a speaker

SUBMISSION GUIDELINES

Authors who wish to candidate to ENOFORUM WEB one or more research works performed in the last years, must complete the following online form by November 25th, 2022, including an abstract of the work, edited according to the standards given in the form. The summary, in the original language of the author and in English, should be ascribed to at least one of the following thematic sections:

In partnership with:

- VINE (genetic material, soil management, agronomic practices, pathogen defence, services etc.)
- GRAPE (maturity monitoring, grape composition, grape processing, maceration techniques, etc.)
- CELLAR (alcoholic and malolactic fermentation, storage, fining, stabilization, etc.)
- WINE (sensory and chemical evaluation of wine, cleaning, bottling, packaging, market etc.)

The research works developed in collaboration with private supplying companies are admitted to the contest, provided that the name of the company does not appear among the authors or affiliations, and no trade names are cited in texts.

WHAT'S NEXT?

The summaries of the submitted research works will be anonymously evaluated by the Scientific Committee for the criterion "impact for grape & wine production".

The researches best ranked by the scientific committee will be further evaluated by an international Technical Committee composed by top agronomists and winemakers.

The authors of works having received the highest scores by the two committees, which will be announced in January 2023, will be shortlisted for the award, and they will be invited to orally present in English their research in a flash-talk format at the ENOFORUM WEB conference, held online on the week 13 to 17 March 2023 with the expected audience overcoming 2,000 attendees from at least 50 wine producing countries.

During the congress, attending stakeholders will evaluate the research results, and a ranking list will be defined on this base.

ENOFORUM WEB Scientists 2023 enjoys the support of OENOPPIA and SIMEI-Unione Italiana Vini

PRIZES AND ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

- the first author of the three top-ranked contributions will receive an award of € 3000, € 2000, and € 1000 respectively;
- the first author of the works in positions 4 through 10 on the ranking list will enjoy a reimbursement up to € 500 for subscription to Macrowine or IVAS scientific conferences in the 2023-2024 biennium;
- one author for each work submitted – independently from the position in the ranking list - will get a free pass to the Enoforum conferences in the 2023-2024 biennium (scheduled in Italy, Spain, United States and other countries).

The list of shortlisted researchers will be used to sort the invited speakers at the following ENOFORUM editions in USA, Italy, Spain, Portugal and other countries, as well at the different meetings, conferences and webinars organized by Vinidea. ENOFORUM WEB Partners that organize events may also use this list to select the speakers. To guarantee even wider dissemination, abstracts will be published on Conference Series published by IVES, and submitted full papers will be hosted on INFOWINE journal (ISSN 1826-1590) and proposed to IVES for publication on Technical Reviews.

Applicants not-selected for oral presentation as candidates of the ENOFORUM WEB Award, will have free admission pass to all conference sessions of Enoforum 2023-24 editions in different countries, and invited to present a poster at the congresses that envisage it.

WANT TO JOIN THE SCIENTIFIC COMMITTEE?

The composition of the ENOFORUM WEB Scientific Committee is intended to extensively represent the entire universe of public wine research centres. All researchers in the public sector, including the participants of the contest, are invited to join the Scientific Committee.

Benefits of the ENOFORUM WEB Scientific Committee Membership:

- ✓ Get aware of the ongoing research activity at a worldwide level, including content not published on scientific journals
- ✓ Have a better perception of the research needs of the wine industry
- ✓ Be registered to the ENOFORUM WEB conference, even if not a speaker
- ✓ Free access to all face-to-face ENOFORUM congresses of 2023-2024, even if not a speaker

If you are willing to join the Scientific Committee, you should declare your availability by November, 25th 2022 by completing a short online-form.